

INDEX

	Page No
1. Introduction.....	1
2. Determination of Allowable Inorganic Concentration in Sewage Sludges.....	3
2.1 Setting of Maximum Allowable Inorganic Concentrations in Type D Sludges.....	4
2.2 Analytical Methods to be Used to Determine the Leachable Fraction and Total Concentrations of Inorganic Substances.....	5
3. Layout of the sludge Utilisation or Disposal Flow Diagram (SUDDFD).....	5
4. Explanatory Notes for Using the Sludge Utilisation or Disposal Flow Diagram.....	6
4.1 Route A: Initial Decision Diagram (Figure 1).....	6
4.2 Route B: Use of Type D sludge in Agriculture (Figure 2).....	12
4.3 Route C: Use of Type A, B or C Sludge in Agriculture (Figure 3).....	13
4.4 Route D: Use of Type A, B, C or D sludge in Industry (Figure 4).....	14
4.5 Route E: Disposal of Type A, B, or C Sludge off the Site of the Works (Figure 5).....	15
4.6 Route F: Disposal of Type A, B or C Sludge on the Site of the Works (Figure 6).....	17
5. Contact Routes.....	18
6. Conclusion.....	19
7. List of Abbreviations.....	19
8. Acknowledgements.....	19
9. References.....	20
9.1 Relevant Acts of Parliament.....	20
9.2 Relevant Publications.....	21
9.3 Relevant Web Site Addresses.....	22

APPENDIX A: The Sludge Utilisation or Disposal Decision Flow Diagram (SUDDFD)

Figure 1: Route A: Initial Decision Diagram

Figure 2: Route B: Use of a Type D Sludge in Agriculture

Figure 3: Route C: Use of a Type A, B, or C Sludge in Agriculture

Figure 4: Route D: Use of Type A, B, C or D Sludge in Industry

Figure 5: Route E: Disposal of Type A, B, or C Sludge off the Site of Works

Figure 6: Route F: Disposal of Type A, B or C Sludge on the Site of Works

APPENDIX B: Recommended Analytical Methods For Establishing Concentrations Of Inorganic Constituents In Sludge

- B1 Analyses of Total Inorganic Constituents (with exception of Boron)
- B2 Analyses of Pathogenic Indicators
- B3 Analyses for Determining the Potentially Leachable Cadmium, Copper, Lead and Zinc Concentrations
- B4 References

APPENDIX C: Frequency of Monitoring Parameters